Principal's Message

“The aim of education is the knowledge, not of facts, but of values.”

– William S. Burroughs

In today's rapidly evolving educational landscape, the role of institutions extends far beyond the dissemination of knowledge. With the progressive implementation of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, higher education in India is witnessing a transformative shift—one that emphasizes flexibility, multidisciplinary learning, skill development, and holistic growth.

At L. S. Raheja College of Arts and Commerce (Autonomous), we take immense pride in embracing this transformation with purpose and commitment. Our academic autonomy, effective from the academic year 2024-25, has enabled us to reimagine and redesign our curriculum to be more dynamic, learner-centric, and aligned with both global standards and industry expectations.

As a Mumbai-based institution offering a diverse range of conventional as well as industry-oriented self-financing programmes at undergraduate and postgraduate levels, we are uniquely positioned to bridge the gap between academic learning and professional application. Our programmes are thoughtfully curated to equip students with not only domain knowledge but also critical thinking, adaptability, and employability skills essential for the modern world.

Our vision, in alignment with NEP 2020, is to foster an ecosystem that nurtures innovation, encourages interdisciplinary exploration, and promotes research and experiential learning. We are equally committed to empowering our faculty through continuous development, enabling them to adopt innovative pedagogies and integrate technology effectively into the teaching-learning process.

Beyond academics, the college offers a vibrant platform for co-curricular, extracurricular, and sports activities, ensuring the all-round development of our students. These experiences play a crucial role in shaping confident, responsible, and socially conscious individuals.

As I take on the responsibility of serving as the In-charge Principal, I am deeply committed to upholding the values and legacy of this esteemed institution while steering it towards new opportunities and growth. Together, with the collective efforts of our faculty, students, and stakeholders, we will continue to strive for excellence in education and nation-building.

Let us move forward with determination, adaptability, and a shared vision for a brighter future.

Warm regards,

Dr. Samya Shinde
